

M.H. EBY, Inc. was founded in 1938 in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania and is now owned & operated by the 3rd generation Eby family. As specialists in agri-transportation equipment, EBY manufactures aluminum semi, gooseneck, and bumper pull livestock trailers, equipment trailers, horse trailers, flatbed truck bodies, and new in 2019--grain trailers. Over the six retail locations EBY currently employees 425 individuals specializing in many talents including sales, engineering, welding, CNC machining, and metal fabrication.

In 2005, the Story City plant opened as part of the “westward” expansion, where all of the EBY punch panel livestock trailers have been produced ever since. During those 14 years the facility has seen several changes, most noticeably now in 2019 as a 45,000 square foot addition is being made to the current building, as well as a 20,000 square foot new building that will house both the sales and service departments later this year. The addition will make room for production of the new Generation grain trailer as well as provide the space to manufacture more of the livestock trailers being produced.

The new sales and service building will be home to a state-of-the-art showroom that will showcase EBY products, as well as an 8 bay service shop. Currently employing just over 100 individuals, this expansion will provide approximately 65 additional opportunities for residents of Story City and the surrounding communities over the next couple years.

As a family owned & operated business, EBY has always been driven to help the many communities that are home to our locations and our employees. Story City is no exception, as EBY supports many organizations including the Story City Greater Chamber Connection, Story City Economic Development Corporation, Roland-Story Schools, and countless other statewide 4-H, FFA, and other agriculture related events. Nationally EBY is also a proud member of many different organizations related to agri-transportation equipment.
